

MOOSE SHOT PLACEMENT

The diaphragm is "cupped". The position of this dotted line shows the position of the diaphragm along the animal's midline.

The heart shows from behind the forward and bottom lobes of the lung.

The liver is positioned in a "cup" of diaphragm. It shows from behind the rear lobes of the lung here.